For Hagerstown, 110.40 a.m. and 15.30 p.m. Monday and last night, a most satisfying transfer of J. M. Barrie's quiet humor and Concordia Church, corner 20th and G transfer of J. M. Barrie's quiet humor and delicate pathos from the book covers to the stage has been made. It is a tale of pure human nature. There is none of the impossible villainy or abnormal virtue that the less skillful delineator of man and his doings finds necessary in order to make his characters interesting. The soft but delicious harmony of the performance is interpreted by a company which is fully capable of doing justice to it. Mr. Willard's performance is marked by the discreet repose which is characteristic of him. It is a portraiture in which this actor was first seen here, that it proves his versatility. As the absentminded professor, as in the old potter, Mr. Willard completely sinks his own personality and with the art that conceals art makes one forget that he is playing a part and 'cello solo, and Mr. Rakemann will be one forget that he is playing a part and think only of the living, moving character. Each part that Mr. Willard plays gives fresh evidence of his great ability and inish as an artist. His company is practically the same as was seen here last season. Miss Marie Burroughs is as fresh and freshly charming as a wild rose, and there were not one of the members of the response of the r freshly charming as a wild rose, and there was not one of the members of the cast who failed to please. Much credit for the smoothness which constitutes one of the chief elements of attraction in this production is due to the stage manager, Mr. Percy

> New National Theater.—There is probably no actor on the stage who has a larger personal following than De Wolf Hopper. It doesn't make any difference what piece he appears in, whether "Wang" or "Panjandrum," it is Hopper that the people go to see. True, he has surrounded himself with an excellent company, including Grace Golden, Della Fox, Alfred Klein and Sam Reed, but Hopper is the central figure and he is the one who creates the enthusiasm. He has all the elements of success, a splendid presence, natural wit, good comic power, an agility that is remarkable in one of his size and the best baritone voice that was ever possessed by a comedian. Whether it is a fact or not, he seems to have as much fun as the audience and to thoroughly enjoy his work on the stage. "Panjandrum," which was seen for the first time in this city at the National Monday night is simply a vehicle for the exploitation of Mr. Alpper and he uses his opportunity to the fullest. vehicle for the exploitation of Mr. Apper and he uses his opportunity to the fullest extent. It is gorgeously staged and cos-tumed and the masses of color, both as to performers and scenery are very attractive. in the book and two or three pretty things in the musical score and of course the whole performance went with that vim that has characterized the work of Mr. Hopper and his company since he first started as a star. The big comedian was at his best last night and the house was packel to the doors and the audience was Academy of Music.—"The Land of the Midnight Sun." which, in Mr. Pearson's play at the Academy last night, includes that part of the hemisphere from Iceland to North Carolina, is a play which appeals most to the highly emotional and enthusias-tic nature of the gallery and there is much in it to stir the blood and make the welkin ring, so to speak. It is a play of long cast and many intricate situations, with a cruel father, a penitent daughter, an erring hus-band, two brothers in love with the same girl and other complications which unravel to a happy end, and the "Land of the Midfor nearly forty-five years in this city, 906 B s.w. oc20-lm*

Harris' Bijou Theater.—That sterling Irish comedy-drama, "True Irish Hearts," was given at the Bijou Monday night to one of the largest houses of the season. Its popularity was attested by the reception it received and a big week's business is looked for. As Lanty Lanagan, Edward W. Rowland was all that could be desired. He handled his part with considerable force and showed careful study. Hal Clarendon essayed the part of Geo. Wolf, the villain. It was his first appearance in the character, yet he was so good that he earned the hisses of the audience—a villain's greatest applause. Miss Lillian Keene made a sweet Kitty Brady and the remainder of the company was good.
